

SUPPORT THE CALIFORNIA STATE PARK ACCESS PASS

The California State Park Access Pass is a proposal to provide much-needed funding for the state park system, while offering Californians free day-use access to their state parks. It creates a new funding stream for California's state parks by instituting a $10 surcharge on vehicle registrations. In exchange for paying the fee, Californians will be provided free day-use access to virtually all state parks.

This is a solution that is long overdue. California's state park system tells of the history and culture of our state, protects irreplaceable natural resources, provides unparalleled recreational opportunities, serves as an economic engine to local economies, and represents a promise for the future. Unfortunately, lack of adequate funding has meant that those promises haven't been kept.

Paying $10 annually for virtually unlimited access to the state park system is a bargain for Californians. And in addition to getting personal benefits, Californians will be making an important and necessary investment in the health of the system – for now and forever.
